The third POSSIBLE CASE will be contributed by SYDNEY LUSKA.

WOULDN'T ACCEPT FREE LUNCH.

Mr. Roosevelt Insists on Paying for His Sandwiches—A Colored Man's Fears.

BALTIMORE, April 6.—Civil-service Commissioner Roosevelt to-day inquired into the political methods of the postoffice here, and during the progress of the examination Mr. Roosevelt asked the postmaster if he could procure him a lunch as he did not care to stop for dinner. The postmaster sent Jackson, his colored messenger, to Renner's restaurant and bought four sandwiches and sent them into the room. Mr. Roosevelt inquired of Jackson what they cost.

"Nothing, sir," he answered. "But I know they did cost something, and I want to pay it," said the Commissioner.

"They are paid for, sir," said Jackson.

"I cannot allow this," said the Commissioner, "and I insist upon knowing what the sandwiches cost."

"Well, sir," said Jackson, "if you insist, they cost 40 cents." Whereupon Mr. Roosevelt handed Jackson $1 and told him he could keep the change.

Jackson turned the glistening silver over in his hands several times and finally handed it back, saying: "I am afraid I cannot take this, sir. We are on government property."

"Oh," said Mr. Roosevelt, "that's my own money, and I can do as I please with it; so you need feel no hesitation in accepting it." Jackson pocketed the dollar and retired.

Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Bonaparte laughed heartily.

Fight Stopped by the Police.

PHILADELPHIA, April 6.—The fight between Jim Duffy, of this city, and Pat Farrell, of Pittsburgh, was stopped by the police to-night at the end of the third round. At the time Duffy had the best of it, the fast fighting having lost on Farrell severely.

The fight was held under the auspices of the Quaker City Athletic Club, and was for a purse of $500, contributed by the club, $500 of which was to have gone to the winner and $100 to the loser, six rounds, Margie of Queensbury rules. About four hundred spectators were present.

WON BY THE GRAND OLD PARTY

Republicans Successful in the State Election in Michigan Yesterday.

Probably that All the Candidates Have Been Elected, Though the Returns Are Meager and the Vote Was Light.

City Tickets at Cincinnati and Cleveland Also Elected by Republicans.

Result at Other Points in Ohio—Honors Divided at Evansville—Phases of the Municipal Fight at Chicago, Which Is to End To-Day.

BALLOTING IN MICHIGAN.

Probability that the Republican Ticket Has Been Successful—Light Vote.

DETROIT, Mich., April 6.—Michigan electors to-day cast their votes for a justice of the Supreme Court and two regents of the State University. City and town elections were held generally throughout the State. Returns up to the present time (midnight) are not sufficiently full to make any estimate. It is known, however, that a very light vote has been cast. This (Wayne) county elected two county auditors and eight members of the Board of Education. The Democrats carried the county by about 3,000 majority.

At I. A. M. returns are still incomplete and the result is not positively known, but it is safe to assume from present indications that the Republican candidates at large are returned by a small majority. The indications are that Montgomery (Rep.), for Supreme Court justice, carries the upper peninsula by about 6,000. Republicans appear to have made gains in smaller districts, while the Democratic vote was all polled in the cities.

A dispatch from Grand Rapids says: "The vote in the State to-day on Justice of the Supreme Court and two regents of the university was the smallest ever known. Returns as yet are meager, but indications are that Judge Champlin, Democrat, will be returned to the Supreme Bench by 2,300. The latter figure is about half the Democratic plurality last fall."

MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS.

Entire Republican Ticket Elected at Cincinnati by Good Majority.

CINCINNATI, O., April 6.—The entire Republican city ticket has been elected here, as follows: Mayor, John B. Mosby; city auditor, Dan W. Brown; corporation counsel, Theodore Horstman; city treasurer, Henry Seigler; justice of the peace, Edward Tyrell; police court judge, Ellis B. Gregg; judge of Superior Court, Rufus R. Smith. The ticket was elected by majorities ranging from 100 to 5,000. Mosby having the smallest majority on the ticket, a little over 100. Out of thirty members of the Board of Legislation, the Republicans have elected twenty-one, leaving nine for the Democrats.

Republicans Win at Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, O., April 6.—Hon. Wm. G. Rose, Republican candidate for Mayor of Cleveland, was elected to-day by a majority of about three thousand. The entire Republican ticket, with the exception of the candidate for city treasurer, was also elected. The successful candidate for treasurer was Maj. W. W. Armstrong, ex-postmaster. His opponent, Hon. M. G. Watterson, the Republican nominee, is a banker and has held numerous offices. The voters of the municipality evidently thought he had had enough. Moreover, he was unpopular with a certain element of workmen.

Columbus Carried by Democracy.

COLUMBUS, O., April 6.—The Democrats have elected their city ticket by majorities ranging from 5 to 1,500 with one exception—member of the Board of Public Works. The Republican majority last fall was about 500.

At Other Points in Ohio.

FINDLAY, April 6.—Returns from the various cities in northwestern Ohio, on the municipal elections of to-day, indicate that the Democrats have carried the cities of Findlay, Napoleon, Defiance, Wapakoneta, Lima, and Upper Sandusky, while the Republicans have been successful in Toledo, Fostoria, Bowling Green, North Baltimore, and Bluffton. While the issues were purely local, the returns were regarded as significant of the fall contest, and with this view of the matter the Democrats are somewhat jubilant, although the returns upon which to base such feelings of exultation if the battles of this fall are fought out on the same line, the result will be exceedingly doubtful. The officers voted for were 30 in number, and members of the Board of Education in each of the several cities of northwestern Ohio, and the result gives the Democrats control of the principal cities of northern Ohio.

At Zanesville, Bell (Rep.) was elected Mayor to-day by 700 majority. At Coshocton, the present incumbent, J. C. Connelley (Dem.), the present incumbent, The City Council is Democratic. The balance of the ticket went Democratic, with one or two exceptions.

At Dayton the Republicans elect Peters for city commissioner by 800 majority. The Democrats elect all the other officers by majorities ranging from 200 to 2,000. The Council and Board of Education both remain in control of the Democrats.

Honors Divided at Evansville.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., April 6.—The city election resulted, to-day, in dividing the honors between both parties. The Democrats elected three councilmen, treasurer, waterworks trustee, and one member of the Board of Public Works. The Republicans elected three councilmen, surveyor, two members of the Board of Public Works. The vote was unusually light. McDough, Dem., elected treasurer by two votes. Pfeiffer, Rep., is elected, and Grote, Dem., is elected waterworks trustee. Scarborough and Stinchfield, Reps., and Madden, Dem., are elected members of the first Board of Public Works. The new Council will stand, Democrats, 4; Republicans, 3.

Republican Victory at Helena, Mont.

HELENA, Mont., April 6.—At the municipal election to-day the Republicans elected the entire city ticket and five out of eight aldermen, making the Council a tie. The proposition to issue bonds and take on $100,000 floating city debt was carried.

CHICAGO'S MAJORITY FIGHT.

Five Candidates in the Field—Principles They Represent—Betting on To-Day's Results.

CHICAGO, April 6.—The election to-morrow will close one of the most peculiar and hotly contested municipal campaigns in this city. No less than five candidates are making the contest for the Mayoralty, and, as between four of these, it is impossible to forecast the result. The friends of each, in all apparent candor, claim about the same number of votes—55,000 to 60,000 for their respective favorites—and each party has so many confidantes in its number, and the complicated elements which enter into the struggle that considerable money has been wagered on each candidate.

The first candidate in the field was Elmer Washburn, ex-chief of police of Chicago, and ex-chief of the United States secret-service bureau. He was put in nomination by holding to the regular party conventions, ostensibly by an independent citizens' movement, but it is understood his chief support, primarily, came from a secret organization whose object is to minimize the influence of the foreign elements in the city administration, and which claims to have 25,000 voters enrolled in its ranks. Its platform, as condensed in its campaign announcements, is the physical and moral cleansing of the city. The argument made in favor of its candidate is the necessity, in view of the approach of the world's fair, of putting the city in such a condition, as to clean streets, that visitors from well-kept cities in Europe will not be shocked, and to render the police force so efficient that thieves, gamblers and other criminal classes will not dare to flock to the city, in anticipation of reaping rich harvests. To this end, also, it is promised that the saloons shall be more vigorously looked after.

There are two Democratic candidates—Dewitt C. Cregier, the present incumbent, and Carter H. Harrison, who has served several terms as Mayor. Some time before the present campaign, Harrison was elected to the nomination, alleging weakness and a catering to the bad element on the part of the existing administration, and promising reforms in these directions. When the convention met, the Harrison delegates accused their opponents of fraud, withdrew from the convention and nominated Cregier, while the others nominated Cregier. Each claimed to be the regular Democratic nominee; the State Central committee took the matter up, and decided that Cregier was regularly nominated. In the meantime, Harrison had received the endorsement of the Personal Rights League, a body made up largely of lawyers, who continued in the field, and has been making a picturesque personal campaign.

At the Republican convention to meet and nominate Hometstead Washburn, son of the late Elihu B. Washburne, the United States minister to France during the Franco-Prussian war. He is running on a platform which promises the application of business methods to the administration of city affairs and the divorcement of the party from politics. The fifth candidate is Thomas Morgan, the nominee of the Socialist Labor party. The fight between the two factions of the Democratic party is particularly bitter, and the State organization is taking an earnest interest in it because of its possible effect in the State at large in the next general election. The Republican convention is held at the Chicago Democratic for initiation, and Senator Palmer, Governor Peck, of Wisconsin, and other prominent Democrats are expected here to help make the campaign on behalf of Cregier.

It is a decidedly complicated struggle, in which each of the four leading candidates has elements of great strength, and the most expert, unprejudiced political prognosticators are unable to forecast the outcome with any degree of certainty. The betting to-day is in favor of Cregier, who is estimated to have secured about $80 to $100 to $150 to $200 to $250 to $300 to $350 to $400 to $450 to $500 to $550 to $600 to $650 to
